

Dear Sir or Madame,
I do not understand how it is possible for Sinclair Broadcasting, or any other television station owner, to use the public airwaves to further their own political agenda without offering equal time to the opposing point of view. This is a huge company, owning many stations, and as such they are being allowed to control what will be seen (and perhaps believed) by a surprisingly large segment of our population, just two weeks before Election Day.

Is it any wonder there are so many of us out here who are very, very concerned about allowing too much control of our media to be concentrated in the hands of fewer and fewer entities?

Please consider this both a formal complaint against Sinclair Broadcasting, and a plea for stricter media ownership rules, nationwide.

Thanks for your consideration.

Patrice Gallagher
Jefferson, MD